

I spend hours on the road and this service has improved my life style. I pay for the service as my choice and feel that FCC does not have a right to remove these privelages.